THE HASKELL INDIANS DEFEATED TEXAS 4 TO 0

THEY WON BY A PLACE KICK--KICKST GAME EVER STARTS ON THURSDAY MORNING AT 10:55---THE TRIP, PLAYED IN AUSTIN--EXCITING FROM START TO FINISH.

Last Friday's game between Texas and Haskell was undoubtedly the most disgustingly interesting game ever played upon a Texas gridiron. Two more evenly matched teams were never pitted against each other. Fierce attack and even fiercer and sturdier defense characterized the play of both red and white. So savage and unyielding were the combatants that unconsciously unnecessary roughness crept into the struggle. Holding, off-side play, tripping, and, at times, slugging were indulged in. Hence the use of the word "disgustingly" above. Both aggregations realized, soon after play began, that the game of their lives was before them, and through fear that the one would take advantage of the other, the rules were oftentimes violated.

The day was an ideal one for such a contest, and a tremendous crowd was on hand to see the battle. Everyone who could possibly get off was there. The rooters were out in force. Maurice Wolfe, chief rooter, had the Law Department entrenched on the west side, and his able lieutenant, "Sunny Jim" Simms, marshalled the engineers on the east side. The Varsity band was stationed at the north end of the band stand and rendered valuable service in keeping the crowd in a good humor before the game, and inspiring the team to play great ball.

Varsity, with Captain Watson at the head, trotted onto the field at 3:55. Yell after yell greeted them. A few signals were run in quick, snappy fashion.

At just 4 o'clock Haskell made its appearance and a generous share of applause was meted out to the husky wearers of the blue. Every man of them looked well "set up." Rather low and chunky, but swift and strong, they displayed in their every movement that football to them was a business which they had mastered. The Houser brothers, two of the most remarkable kickers ever seen in Texas, indulged in a few punts, and then the Indians were ready.

Captain Guyon won the toss and chose the south goal. Texas kicked off. After twenty-two minutes of the fastest kind of play, P. Houser dropped back, and on a place kick from the forty-yard line drove the ball over Texas' goal, thereby making four points. No further scoring was possible. Neither team could make many consecutive gains, and as a result both were forced to punt frequently.

Texas' defensive play was magnificent. Time after time the orange and white line yielded not an inch. The Indians uncorked trick after trick, only to have them all literally smashed to pieces by their wary and experienced opponents.

Little Billie Blocker at right end played the game of his life. It was the first chance he had been given this season, and he made the most of it--accepting a broken nose without comment in order to stay in the game. Glasscock at center demonstrated that he is one of the best centers in the South. His blocking of an attempted place kick saved Texas from having another goal registered against her. Prendergast proved to be the best ground gainer on Varsity. Whenever called upon, he responded with a gain.

Marshall and Parrish refused to do any yielding. In fact they played the shirts off of the men against them. Scarborough surprised even his friends with the high class of defensive play he put

THE TEAM LEAVES FOR ST. LOUIS AND CHICAGO

THEY WON BY A PLACE KICK--KICKST GAME EVER STARTS ON THURSDAY MORNING AT 10:55---THE TRIP, PLAYED IN AUSTIN--EXCITING FROM START TO FINISH.

Thursday morning at 10:55 the team will leave Austin for St. Louis and Chicago. They will go by way of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas and will travel in a chartered Pullman car. Everything has been done to make the boys comfortable, and to keep them well and in good condition. Enough water will be taken to last them while they are gone, and they will keep strict training and be furnished with good, substantial provisions.

The team will go straight through to St. Louis, where the game with Washington University will be played on Saturday, October 29. They will remain in St. Louis until Tuesday, and will have a couple of days in which to see the Fair. They will leave St. Louis on Tuesday and go to some small town in Illinois, where they will practice for the great Chicago game. This practice will give them a short opportunity in which to get used to the climate, and is expected to be of great benefit to them. On Friday the team will go to Chicago. On Saturday afternoon the Chicago game will be played, and after the game the boys will start for home.

Forty or fifty men have been out trying for the team, but of this number a considerable part have dropped out, so that Coach Hutchinson has about thirty-five or forty men from whom to pick. Twenty men will take the trip, eighteen players, Coach Hutchinson, and Manager Kerbey. The names of the fortunate ones will not be posted until a short time before they leave, but it is easy to name at least fourteen who are sure to go.

The men who are almost certain to make the trip are Glasscock, Marshall, Parrish, Prendergast, Scarborough, Jones, Blocker, Masterson, Robinson, Watson, Householder, Hendrickson, Francis and Kindley. The other four will be chosen, in all probability, from the following: Woodhull, Fink, Wilkerson, Williams, Ramsey, Ramsdell, Amsler, Caldwell and Ramsdell.

The men are in good condition. Several of them received bad bruises in the Haskell game, but there is nothing serious, and all who played last Saturday will be able to take the trip. Captain Watson will be as well as ever, and, under the increased excitement of the foreign games, he will play harder and better than ever. Robinson will start in at left half, and, as he says, he is "going to do a little something." Jones will be on left end. That, in itself, is enough to insure that that position will be amply occupied. Prendergast will be at right tackle. Marshall, Scarborough, Glasscock and Parrish will fill the other line positions. Masterson will take quarter and Blocker right end. It is doubtful who will start in at full, but both Householder and Rendrickson can fill it with credit. The team is a good one, and in the coming games the University of Texas will be well represented.

It will be a great trip, and one which in its importance and consequence leaves all of our past athletic crusades in a shadow of insignificance. The interest in the probable outcome of this trip is very great, and every student feels that the result of the approaching conflicts will be a great factor in establishing the standing of the University. One element in the speculations with regard to the Chicago game is that of uncertainty, and this adds to the enthusiasm that is felt on all sides. This uncertainty is caused by the knowledge that our fellows are attempting something that seems more difficult than any other contest in which Texas has ever been engaged. Heretofore Texas has enjoyed only a limited reputation, and is known in athletics through only a small number of states. Chicago is known through all the country. It is just a question of whether we are to remain a college of sectional reputation or are to take a place among the larger colleges of the West. In this position of uncertainty, we can not expect anything, we can only hope to make a good showing.

It is impossible to draw any comparison for this year between our team and either of the teams that we are to play on the trip, for they have not had games that furnish any basis of comparison. Drury beat Arkansas 11 to 0. Washington beat Drury 36 to 0. This seems to say that our team will have a hard fight against Washington; but any such comparison does not really tell anything. The University of Chicago beat Northwestern 23 to 0, and Northwestern usually has a pretty good team. No comparison is possible; but, nevertheless, one thing is certain, Texas has harder work before her than she has dared heretofore to attempt.

IMPROVEMENT IN B. HALL.

Dormitory Life at Texas.

The one place around the University of Texas where dormitory life for young men is most truly exemplified is at University Hall, popularly known as "B. Hall," from the name of the generous donor of this valuable adjunct to the University, Mr. Brackenridge of San Antonio. B. Hall holds many tender memories for the hundreds of students who have inhabited its rooms in the past fifteen years. With the improvements now going on and those to be added in the future, the old hall is assuming an air of comfort that makes dormitory life more homelike, without in any way lessening the influences that make it one of the best places to get a true taste of college life.

At present there are 128 students rooming at the hall and 98 others taking their meals there, making a total of more than one-third of the young men in the University. When it is understood that these 226 young men all eat in the same room, and are thrown together in a large self-governing body, unwatched and uncontrolled by any powers except those selected of their own choosing, it can be realized that no mean lesson in self-government and no poor opportunity of learning his fellow student is afforded to the young man boarding at B. Hall.

Recently there have been a number of improvements in B. Hall and the hall that will make living there more attractive. During the summer the whole building has been renovated, all the wood work being repainted and re-varnished. In addition to this, new matting has been laid in all the corridors, a new steel range put in the kitchen, and a clothes-pressing and shoe-shining department established by which all of those boarding at the Hall can get their clothes pressed and shoes shined at a nominal sum. To add to the homelikeness, more than half the roomers at the Hall have put in new matting in their rooms and hung pictures on the walls. Then on the outside, the steep hill that used to be between the Hall and the Main Building has been shayed off at the top and extended at the foot, in such a manner as to add materially to the appearance of things. Gravel roads and cement walks are being laid under the direction of President Prather himself, who seems to have a fine faculty for directing even the smallest details of campus improvement. And, by the way, the many improvements in the Hall have every one of them been under the personal supervision of the President.

The present steward of the Hall is, without any word of reflection upon his predecessors, the best and hardest working steward the Hall has ever had. Working through him, the President has planned and carried into execution these improvements that go so far toward changing a cheerless dormitory of rough-plastered walls, into a pleasant college home.

What shall we say of the future of the Hall? It is already crowded beyond its capacity. There is no place for any more tables; every room is taken. It must undoubtedly be enlarged in the near future or else continually increasing numbers of young men who would like to know the life of a college dormitory must be turned away. The present building could be doubled in size by adding wings. But if that would make an architectural monstrosity, then there is plenty of room nearby to build another hall. One thing is evident: a hall built fifteen years ago to satisfy a demand then existing is now entirely inadequate in size to accommodate the students of an institution that is doubling its attendance every ten years.

In speaking of the Hall and its improvements, it might be well to notice what other institutions have done. The changes of the old world, it is well known, are favorable to dormitory life. Recently the alumni of Yale have been attempting to encourage the students there to take more interest in dormitory life. In this age of wealth and luxury, young men are beginning to prefer a suite of rooms in a private place to the necessarily clocklike precision of a dormitory. To this tendency is attributed in some measure the sink in Yale spirit. In order to revive the old time spirit that the alumni love to tell about, it is proposed that dormitory life there be popularized. In like manner the dormitory which has not been a feature of college life at Chicago University is hereafter to be a permanent institution. The University of Texas can not do better than to guard her dormitory, enlarge it, and improve it, that sacred memories clustering round ancient walls, and present comforts within them, may foster and develop that healthy spirit of progress that has always been the pride and boast of the institution.

GRAND RALLY LAST THURSDAY NIGHT.

A football rally was held in the Auditorium last Thursday night to work up enthusiasm for the Haskell game. Mr. Curtiss conducted the meeting and the following gentlemen addressed the students: Dr. Benedict, Judge Townes, Judge Clark, Regent Gregory, Captain Watson, Coach Hutchinson and Rooter Maurice Wolf. The band played for the first time this year, and the organization deserves the congratulations of the students.

A committee, composed of Mr. McCarty, Mr. Alex. Pope and Miss Kincaid, was appointed to correspond with the fraternities of other universities inquiring into the customs and regulations of those institutions. The Faculty committee is to correspond with the Faculties of other institutions with regard to the matter, and co-operate with the student committee in deciding upon a plan. It was then proposed that the Freshmen be required to withhold their decision from the fraternities for three days after pledge day; it was decided to settle this matter by vote at the next meeting. Meeting adjourned.

up. Jones had one of the strongest men on the Haskell team against him, but he displayed the same courage and pluck as his team mates, and put his whole self into the game.

Behind the line the same high class work was also to be found. Watson, Robinson, Householder, Francis, Henrickson, Masterson and Wilkerson—all went into every play with the pluck and grit characteristic of them all. They filled all holes quickly and surely.

As for the Indians, they played hard and fast football. They were quick at getting under way, executed plays rapidly, and were fierce and rough in defense. The Houser brothers were the bright and particular stars of the occasion. P. Houser's place kick won the game for Haskell. E. Houser's long punts helped the Indians out of many a tight place. He easily averaged forty yards on his drives. Oliver, Dubois in the line, and Archiquette, Gokey and Porter in the back field, played a strong, steady, and, at times, a brilliant game.

Game in Detail.

Texas kicks off to Archiquette, who returns ball 10 yards. Archiquette on quick opening makes 5 yards, and on next play tears off 10 yards on cross buck. Gokey fails to gain on attempt at right end. Indians penalized 15 yards for holding. A free fumble makes first down for Haskell. On next play Gokey circles right end for 25 yards. Archiquette fails to gain on attempt at other end, but clips off 4 yards on mass on left tackle in next play. Dubois makes first down through left tackle. Gokey in mass on right tackle for 4 yards. Archiquette plunges through right tackle for 5 yards. Guyon circles left end for required distance. Left half clips off 3-4-2 yards around right end. On a delayed pass Blocker dumps Archiquette for a loss of 5 yards. P. Houser attempts drop kick. Ball rolls back of Texas' goal, Masterson falling on it. Watson punts out, Indian's ball in center of field.

Blocker throws Archiquette for a loss of 1 yard. Gokey circles right end for 40 yards. Texas' rooting at this point unable to be heard across the creek.

A quick opening on the right yields no gain. Haskell penalized 15 yards for holding. An attempt at Jones' end increases distance to be gained 5 more yards. An attempt at goal from field by placement is blocked by Glascock, Haskell, however, falling on ball. Gokey makes 1 yard around right end, but is laid out, McKay taking his place. Indians penalized 15 yards for holding. E. Houser punts 35 yards. Watson returns 5. "Robbie" smashes off 8 yards in a mass on tackle. Householder bangs out 1 yard through center. Robbie punts for 55 yards. Indians lose 5 yards for off-side play. Lose 2 more on an attempted trick. Haskell punts 40 yards; Masterson returns 10. Watson cuts off

The late receipts for the Indian game were nearly $1300. All debts up to date are cleared, but $700 are needed to start the team on the trip. If you have your library deposit still in your pocket, take it out and help send the team to Chicago. They need the money.

A chapter has been torn from a reserved book in the Library. This book, and especially this chapter, was necessary to a number of students, and some one of them, in order to save time and trouble, has torn the chapter from the book and carried it off. A new copy of the volume had to be ordered, and the entire class is caused much inconvenience and delay. The book is Brink's English Literature, and the chapter that was stolen deals with the Saxons. This portion was in great demand by the members of English 2.

The person who is guilty of this outrage deserves universal condemnation. He is not only dishonest, but he is wholly devoid of all the elements of a gentleman, for he lacks consideration for the welfare and progress of others. He is unworthy of student association, and, if the truth were known, he would be driven away by a unanimous vote of his fellow students. His motives in stealing the chapter could have been none other than those of a most selfish and mercenary nature. He is unfit for the enjoyment of a University education, for the dishonorable motives that influenced him to steal will be made more disastrous when they are supported by knowledge and experience. This is written for the person who did the stealing, and we hope you'll see it, and realize how you stand in the opinion of the students.

MEETING OF THE STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION.

Tuesday, October 18, a meeting of the Students' Association was held for the purpose of electing the President and Vice President of the Executive Council and Assistant Editor of the Cactus. Mr. Glasscock, the Secretary of the Association, presided as temporary chairman. The first business was the election of President. Alex. Pope nominated Mr. Edward Crane for President of the Council, to succeed Lewis Johnson, resigned. He was elected by acclamation.

Mr. Mitchell then nominated Mr. Womack for Vice President, to succeed W. O. Wright, resigned, and he was elected by acclamation also.

The next business was the election of Associate Editor of the Cactus. Mr. Duessen, on behalf of the Cactus Board, nominated Mr. Lynn Milam for that position. Mr. Milam was elected by acclamation. As there was no further business the meeting was adjourned.

The Association is to be congratulated upon the selection of these able men.

GRAND PARADE OF STUDENTS.

Be on the Campus at 9:45 Thursday Morning.

Be sure you get in the parade that will leave the campus Thursday morning. We must give the boys a grand send-off. We must make them feel that the whole University is with them. They have a hard trip. Come out on Thursday morning and yell. The train will leave at 10:55. Be on the campus at 9:45. Every loyal student will be there. If you don't come you may be convinced that you are not what you ought to be in regard to college spirit. The team expects to see you. Be there.

WHAT THE INDIANS SAID ABOUT TEXAS.

The players on the Haskell team said that the main trouble with Texas was that she did not reel off the plays fast enough, but hesitated between plays and gave them time to collect their wits and prepare the defense. The coach, Mr. Hearnstein, said that he expected to run up a big score on Texas and that he was surprised at the strength of our team. He said that the Indian team was 50 per cent better than it was last year. He seems to think that Texas will make a good show against Chicago.

Always cut class today when you can't cut it tomorrow.

IMPORTANT ADDITIONS TO LIBRARY.

Miss H. B. Bryan of Washington, formerly of Texas, has presented the University Library with seven boxes of books, most of which are government documents. This addition is valuable in that it helps to complete the public documents already in the Library.

A similar donation has been made by the National Department of the Republic of Mexico.

Dr. Primer has bought an old and valuable German encyclopaedia of eighty-five volumes to be used in the Department of Germanic Languages.

Leave your class spirit at home on Thursday morning. The University, the whole University, and the University as a whole is going down to cheer the departing team.

JESTERS' JUBILEE.

Some of the Great Features to be Seen.

The Jesters' Jubilee promises to be a big success. The committees are spending vast sums of money for spectacular features and amusements. Every day will be a big one and the program includes displays and attractive parades never before presented in Texas.

There will be military parades, fireworks displays, a mile of high-class shows, a grand spectacular flower parade, in which over thirty beautifully decorated carriages will be seen, besides dozens of other strange and gorgeous floats of every description.

Tuesday, November 1, will be Queen's day, at which time Miss Jamie Armstrong, one of Austin's most beautiful and accomplished young ladies, will be crowned with all the magnificent surrounding suitable for the occasion. The Queen's Ball will be given at the Driskill hotel Wednesday evening, and promises to be a brilliant affair. The King of the Jubilee and his court crowned jester will be present at the balls, and jokes and witty sayings will keep the ball room bubbling with merriment. Excursion rates have been secured on every line entering Austin and thousands of visitors are expected. The Great Parker Amusement Company, who have been engaged to furnish the amusement features, will arrive in Austin next Sunday afternoon, and the attractions will all be placed ready for the grand opening Monday evening.

From word of mouth every player expects to see you. Be on campus at 9:45 Thursday morning. We'll all go together.

MEETING OF ACADEMS.

On October 17 was held a meeting of the students of the Academic Department to elect representatives to the "Students' Council." Mr. Parrish was chosen as temporary chairman. The election proceeded with the following result: Graduate Class, J. F. Johnson; Senior, C. O. Weller; Junior, L. W. Parrish; Sophomore, Bob Edwards; Freshman, Murray Ramsey. Motion to adjourn was made and carried.

Good News Travels Fast

It is worthy of note that pure merit needs no herald to trumpet its virtues to the world. When the man who seeks for the best finds what he wants it will not be long before others know it too, and follow his lead.

It all depends upon the beginning. You may begin right, or you may begin wrong. We do not urge you to jump at conclusions; or to burn your bridges behind you. Make haste slowly, but surely, This is the time to start. A visit to our store will serve to bring us together. We are exclusive agents for STETSON'S SPECIAL and IMPERIAL HATS.

The Mud Bath of Black Friday.

In a hole of slush and mud,
One bare head red as blood
Is a cause for retrospection
Of the night when "Hickey's band"
Gathered under Prexy's pan
With a painting predilection.

Other heads of sober hue,
Faces pale and lips of blue,
Bobbing round that head-vergence—
Makes a deep impression there—
'Tis the picture of despair—
'Tis a bath among a million;

'Tis the way the noble Laws
Measure out mid wild applause
Justice to those engineering
Students who forget the rights
Of the noble Laws o' nights,
And revert to ways of erring.

Take your dues, ye Engineers,
Take a mudding mid the jeers
Of the 'Varsity's population—
Simpkins' Equity is just,
And the Laws will, when they must,
Give to you its application.

Freshman to Dick Terrell at the Haskell game: "I thought that man kicked the bucket."

Terrell: "No, he just turned a little pale."

Interest in Political Science seems to be growing. Five or six hundred students were in the corridor last week taking notes on Nation-ology.

In memory of Don K. Donkey, our beloved brother and companion, who departed this life from the water tower Friday morning, October 14, 1904. He fell a martyr to class spirit and the grasping greed of combination. The relatives of the deceased extend thanks to the kind friends, especially to the Laws, who drew up his last will and testament; to the Engineers, who located the burial site, and to the Freshmen who very kindly and appropriately furnished evergreens for the funeral.

"A lover is like a set of dice."
"Why?"

"He first gets picked up, then rattled, then shook and thrown down."

Freshman: "I understand that the hair rushes are yet to come. Say, be sure and let me know when the frat-rushing is going to begin, because I want to get my old clothes on and be ready for them."

Be on the campus at 9:45 Thursday morning. Parade of students will escort team to depot.
